

The Animal Inhabitants of Abandoned Mines

Varieties of Mammals, Reptiles, Birds and Insects Take Refuge or Found Their Homes in Old Workings—Ancient Human Remains Are Sometimes Found.

Arthur Lakes in Mining Science

Abandoned mines and prospects or mines that for some time have lain idle are often the "rendezvous" dens, dwelling places and tombs of a considerable variety of animal life, particularly such as "love darkness rather than light," whose habits are nocturnal, or those that in hot countries seek the shade, or others that in cold countries in the depths of winter find the recesses of old abandoned mines convenient places for hibernating through the long cold months. Besides mammals and wild beasts, mines are the retreats of reptiles and noxious and poisonous insects, such as lie under stones or find their way deep into the cracks with which the walls of mines abound. Not infrequently, too, old mines are the tombs of the "antiquary" miners, overwhelmed and buried by some "cave-in" or other accident common to mines. This untimely end is not always confined to the mummified remains of antiquity. Not a few modern miners lie beyond reach of recovery, buried in the profound depths of the earth until the mines like the great deep, "shall give up their dead."

Recently in visiting a mine that had lain idle near Breckenridge, Colorado, in following an old drift the dim light of the lamp showed its end to be occupied by some living animal which turned out to be a porcupine. A prospector visiting the same mine in winter found the tracks of a mountain lion leading in and thought it inadvisable to go further. It is probable that bears sometimes hibernate in old mines, or at least that they have never heard of an authentic instance. The tunnels of mines, especially abandoned ones, are the favored resorts and resting places of the mountain rat, whose chattering habits are notorious. Candles left in the mine are quickly disposed of and all sorts of articles from spoons to tin snips and nails are found gathered on the outside of their huge nest, which covers a snug little bed of dried leaves or some soft material. The habits of the mountain rat are nocturnal, but it is not uncommon to meet them in the day time in the recesses of the drifts.

Bats are common in mines and may be seen hanging head down from the roof. In Kentucky there are caves or abandoned mines in which these creatures swarm and live in such countless numbers that their droppings or "guano" are systematically mined and profitably sold as fertilizers. During the day the bats are still and may be found covering the roof with their hanging bodies; at night or early in the evening a black cloud, like smoke from a coal mine explosion, may be seen issuing from the entrance, composed of millions of these bats, and towards dawn the cloud returns and is swallowed up in the recesses of the cave.

Birds, especially those of the "cave" family such as the western "pewee," often build their nests and raise their young at the entrance of a mine. Miners going in and out are commonly interested in the young family and are careful not to disturb it.

AN ABSENT MINDED GENIUS

How M. Poincare, the French Scientist, Lost His Property

Henri Poincare, the famous French scientist, does not find it profitable to work more than two hours at a time. His custom is to stay at his desk from 10 o'clock to noon and from 5 to 7 o'clock in the afternoon never working in the evening after dinner. He drinks wine at meals but never smokes. He goes to bed at 10 o'clock and rises at 7, but does not sleep soundly.

He is a blonde, 5 feet 3 inches in height and weighs 154 pounds. His head is unusually large, especially in the back. His eyes are myopic and unsteady. He stands awkwardly with his awkward forward posture.

He speaks so slowly and with a "strange" air, as though he were a foreigner, that even those who are at the time interested and keenly observant, he speaks English and German readily and reads 7th and Italian. He is fond of music, plays the violin and piano.

Of the absentmindedness that has been characteristic of him from youth, his friends are told. Like many of the great men he is fond of walking and thinking.

WEEKLY REVIEW OF MINING NEWS OF THE CRIPPLE CREEK DISTRICT

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Nov. 11.—By mining deeds filed for record Lucinda W. Allen and Minnie I. Hardy have each transferred a one-quarter interest in the Panic lode mining claim in this district to Louise L. Reeves. The consideration named in each deed was $12.50.

I. N. Ampter and J. W. Cohen of Victor have conveyed to the Grand Republic Gold and Copper Mining company, for a nominal consideration, the May Flower, Grapple Creek, Queen, Little Stella, Buckhorn claims Nos. 1 to 5 inclusive, the Mineral lode and the Republic claims Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 4.

Old Gold Lease Surrendered.

The lease on the Old Gold held by the Hahnwald brothers of Leadville is reported surrendered, and work has ceased.

Two four-horse teams were hauling ore Monday morning from the White and Briar lease on the Gold Bond Consolidated Mining company's Gold Hill estate to the loading station in Cripple Creek. These lessees are mining a better than average grade of ore.

School Section L. Co.

The production made in October from block 8 of the Cameron school section No. 16, on Bull hill, by the School Section Mining and Leasing company, totaled 25 cars or between 750 and 850 tons. The grade of the ore was close to 24 tons the ton. The original lease on this block is held by the Cooperative Mining and Leasing company, whose stockholders holding control are residents of Colorado City.

A second shipment from the Jefferson mine in Victor was loaded out Sunday, and the ore is estimated as of two ounce grade—340 to the ton. Manager William Davenport has machines working on ore in both the 100 and 200-foot levels and with stopping ground available the production from the lease will be materially increased. The lease is held by the St. Paul Mining and Investment company.

By mining deeds, F. A. Mangold, formerly, undersheriff of El Paso county, now a resident of Denver, has purchased a 2-40 interest in the Ramona lode mining claim in this district. The fourth interest purchased from Mary A. Walker of Alameda county, California, brought $400 and a like interest held by William S. Walker of El Paso county, shows the payment of a nominal consideration in the deed.

Mineral or Agricultural?

His mining deed Minnie Davis has conveyed to William R. Frazier for a nominal consideration 14 claims containing 101,222 acres together with certain interests in three other claims on the southern slope of Rhyolite mountain in this district. The Davis ranch was located on these mineral locations.

Work will shortly be resumed in the Mineral Hill tunnel, additional subscribers to the stock of the Mineral Hill Railway & Tunnel company having been secured from the business men of the city. The bore projected to exploit Mineral Hill has been driven in excess of 500 feet into Mineral Hill from the western slope, but although mineralized dikes have been crossed, no ore of shipping value has as yet been encountered. The tunnel will be continued on its eastern course, and later the veins and dikes exposed by the tunnel will be prospected by drift.

October Production of Lessees.

The production made in October from the American Eagle group of the Stratton estate, operated under lease by the Colorado Mines Investment company and its subsidiaries, totaled 12 cars, or about 400 tons of ore, with an average value of $85 to the ton.

There are 12 sets of subdrifts at work, and some of the operators are mining high grade smelting ore, as evidenced by the general average value of the product marketed. A car of milling grade ore was loaded out from this Bull hill property Tuesday morning.

Nine cars or about 300 tons of ore were loaded out from the McVillie B. Rapp lease on the Colorado Bond, Rapp and Rose Maud mines on Raven and Gold hills during October. The properties owned by all parties through the Peggy shaft, Gold Hill. The ore shipped was all of milling grade.

Teams were loading out shipments Tuesday morning from the Anchorage-Leland and Conundrum mines on Gold Hill, owned by the Anchorage-Leland Gold Mining company, and operated under lease. The ore shipped was of a good milling grade.

L. U. G. M. Co.

Leaves Brown and associates, operating the Deadwood mine on Bull hill, owned by the United Gold Mines company, were shipping again Tuesday morning. The mine has been in operation for some time.

Sen. A. L. Van Tilborg and George W. Bonney of this city who last week secured a lease on a block of the Anchorage-Leland Mining and Milling company's Gold Hill estate, operating north of the main shaft at the 200-foot level, have struck pay and will load out their initial shipment next week. Drifting north, toward the Half Moon mine of the Matco Gold Mining company, the lessees are following a somewhat confined vein, causing a narrow seat of high-grade ore about one-half inch wide. Assay tests on this streak have shown high values and by breaking close a good grade of screenings results.

Shipments were loaded out Friday morning from the dumps at the Anchorage-Leland mine on Gold Hill, the Comet and Herrington shafts, Isabella Mines company, the Victor and El Paso shafts on Bull Hill, the El Paso and Gold Ditch dumps on Beacon Hill.

P. Cain, duly assigned to the Doart Mining company.

The Atlanta lode mining claim, United States survey No. 8,523, adjoining the Findley and United Gold Mines company's estate on Bull Hill, will be exposed for sale by the sheriff on December 1, under judgment issued from the district court of Teller county in favor of Frank W. Gale, trustee as against the Gilpin and Cripple Creek Gold Mining company in the sum of $27,290, with interest and costs.

CHICAGO MARKET

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—Wheat reacted more than 20 cents today, after a sudden upward jump of a cent. Shorts, in a stampede over sensational reports of damages said to have been caused by the blizzard northwest, forced the bulk until a deluge of profit-taking sales on spreads between Minneapolis and Chicago sent prices down with a crash. The close was comparatively steady, but there was a loss to 1/2¢ to 1¢ net.

Assertions that millions of bushels of wheat on Canadian prairies had been frozen and buried by the blizzard were at first received with incredulity, but when apparently backed up by the action of northwestern markets, put short sellers here into such a flurry that everything else for the moment was lost sight of. Later Minneapolis dispatches told of certain Chicago houses being heavy sellers. "At the same time it developed that one of the principal holders of cash wheat here had been unloading busily through the medium of December contracts. All the advance and much more in addition quickly melted away. December fluctuated from 83 1/2¢ to 84 1/2¢, closing at 84 1/2¢, a full cent under last night. No. 2 yellow was quoted at 73 1/2¢. In contrast with wheat, the market for corn was a dull affair, ranging from 63 1/2¢ to 64 1/2¢, and closing steady, but 1/4¢ down, at 63 1/2¢. Cash grades were in good demand. No. 2 yellow was quoted at 73 1/2¢. Active selling by both longs and shorts destroyed strength that had shown itself early in oats, because of small offerings from the country. High and low levels touched by December were 47 1/2¢ to 47 3/4¢, with the close at 47 1/2¢, the last named figure, a loss of 1/4¢ from last night. There was no demand for packing house products until prices made a substantial drop. Tonight live hickshaws showed provisions less costly by 10¢ to 20¢ all around.

NEW YORK MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—The rapid advance was checked today by extensive realizing. After heavy opening, the market advanced in spite of a flood of profit-taking sales, exhibiting a degree of strength which surprised traders, who looked for an extensive reaction. Reading rose 1/2¢ to 1 1/2¢, its highest price since August, and other active stocks rebounded from their low figures. The list did not remain long at any given point, however, and after a series of irregular movements, sold off toward the close. Some of the active issues, including United States Steel, Union Pacific, Amalgamated Copper and Northern Pacific, lost a point or so on the day. It was the opinion of market observers that the list, without the selling in a way which demonstrated considerable underlying strength. The market was steadied to some extent by increased outside buying, as indicated by the breadth of the trading.

The placing of railroad stocks, which has been on much more active scale of late, was continued today. Sales of bonds of the Atlantic Coast line and the Texas Central were announced. Atlantic Coast line was one of the heaviest of the railroad stocks. The average table, however, a $2,000,000 loss in surplus was recorded.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales par value, $1,855,000.

EIGHT KILLED IN TORNADO; PROPERTY LOSS ENORMOUS

Cold Wave Follows Storms and Many Perish---Wisconsin's Area
Strip 20 Miles Long

Nearly a score of deaths, several million dollars in property loss, and much suffering resulted from the violent change of temperature, the preceding storms and the succeeding cold and snow that beset the central portion of the country Saturday and Sunday morning.

After an unusually warm November day, tornadoic storms did much damage in Wisconsin and Illinois, killed a dozen persons and injured more than a score. A cold wave almost immediately rolled over the wreckage of the tornado and extended in a few hours to the gulf coast and to the Atlantic seaboard.

Rain turned to sleet, snapping telegraph and telephone wires, and snow followed. The temperature dropped in several places more than 60 degrees in 18 hours.

Several persons were frozen to death by the sudden cold, shipping on the great lakes was damaged and several boats were cast adrift. The poor in large cities and the homeless in storm-swept regions suffered severely.

The official weather forecast last night was for quick relief from the severe cold in the middle west, the low temperature moving rapidly eastward and southward.

From a point near zero the mercury began to rise yesterday, with probability of a further rise by tomorrow in the central states.

Only One Survivor of Schmidt Family

JANESVILLE, Wis., Nov. 12.—Splintered timbers, broken furniture, cumbered rock and plaster, scattered farm products and dead farm animals littering the ground over an area quarter of a mile wide and 20 miles long, indicate the tremendous force with which Wisconsin's worst tornado yesterday swept a path through Rock county, killing eight persons, injuring many more and doing damage to the extent of nearly a million dollars.

One of the injured, Albert Schmidt, 14 years old, near Hanover, will die. His father and two sisters are dead. At least one more may die.

ANTON SCHMIDT, 25 years old, was killed. His wife, Mary, 16 years old, sister of Albert, was also killed.

ALICE SCHMIDT, 18 years old, died. Her mother and two sisters were killed.

ROBERT AUSTIN, 5 years old, instantly killed.

MRS. JOHN CROWDER, 45 years old, killed.

MRS. E. J. WATKINS, 45 years old, killed.

WILLIAM WATKINS, 16 years old, killed.

AMY KORBIN, 8 years old, instantly killed when house was demolished.

Wire service was demoralized last night and it was not until today that details of the storm were obtainable.

Saturday night the mercury dropped nearly to zero.

The tornado originated in the vicinity of Orfordville, 13 miles southwest of Janesville, traveled northeast for several miles and then turned to the east, missing this city by a narrow margin. Its force was spent near Milton.

Greatest Damage Near Milton.

The greatest damage was done at the point of origin and at Milton, residing there is only one survivor. He is Albert Schmidt, 14 years old. Physicians say he cannot recover. Alice Schmidt and her younger sister were in the house when the storm struck. Their bodies were blown across the road, the house being demolished.

Anton Schmidt, the father of Albert, and a tramp were in the barn. The tramp was injured, but Mr. Schmidt was blown through the barn door and killed. The boy was buried beneath the debris after several fatal injuries.

Mrs. Elizabeth Schmidt, a bride of a few months, was instantly killed when the house was carried away. Her husband was in the barn and discovered the body of his wife after the storm passed.

TWO KILLED IN STORM

NEAR EASTON, ILLINOIS

EASTON, Ill., Nov. 12.—Two were killed and seven seriously injured in a storm which struck Easton last night, tearing away telegraph and telephone wires and leaving the tragedy of the storm untold to the world until tonight. The dead:

INFANT CHILD of Mr. and Mrs. James Prater. Body found 100 yards from the home, which was demolished.

MRS. ALLIE HENGEER, 76 years old, died of fright when her home collapsed.

The Prater home was the only one in town which was much damaged. The Prater baby was buried against a tree. All other members of the family are injured. Farm houses and barns in the country were toppled over.

Urge U. S. to Treat All Other Countries as Well as Canada

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The American Publishers association today, through John Norris, chairman of its committee on paper it was announced here today, has sent a letter to President Taft urging that the government observe good faith in the observance of the favored nation clause of 25 treaties with respect to the free importation of pulp and paper when made from unrestricted wood.

The question of enforcing the favored nation clause has arisen because of the passage of section 2 of the act of July 26, 1911, which granted a special privilege to Canada in the matter of free pulp and paper, and which did not depend upon Canadian reciprocity, becoming immediately effective upon the passage of the law.

It is a separate and independent tariff convention.

Canada's rejection of the reciprocity agreement and the continued importation of Canadian pulp and paper free of duty after September 21, 1911, the date of the Canadian election and the United States in a position where it was granting a special privilege to Canada and it became obligated by it.

From Four Sources.

The question was thrust upon the treasury department from four sources:

1. By importers through the American Wood Pulp Growers association and others who objected to payment of duty under such conditions.

2. By requests of customs collectors for instructions.

3. By inquiries from representatives of the favored nations.

4. By paper users through the American Newspaper Publishers association.

Mr. Norris says that there are indications that American paper makers are seeking to delay the execution of the law by urging reference of the matter to the courts for determination.

He points out a precedent for executive action in 1900, when the administration through instructions issued to the secretary of the treasury to collectors granted to Switzerland under its favored nation clause the same rates on wines and spirits that France enjoyed under its reciprocity treaty of 1898.

The text of the favored nation clause reads:

If either party shall hereafter grant to any other nation any particular favor in navigation, of commerce, or in the matter of the treasury to collectors, granted to Switzerland under its favored nation clause the same rates on wines and spirits that France enjoyed under its reciprocity treaty of 1898.

Decries Delay.

Mr. Norris urges that "immediately" as used in that clause means in good faith what it says, and not after interminable delays in the courts or after congress shall have subsequently passed upon the proposition. He claims that the later law repealed so much of the Payne law as was inconsistent.

STORM HAS LUMBER VESSEL IN GRASP

ASTORIA, Ore., Nov. 12.—The schooner Washington, lumber-laden from Portland to San Francisco, is in a precarious position tonight near Peacock spit off Cape Disappointment, just inside the Columbia river bar. It is not known whether the vessel is ashore or lying crippled in the rough water. It is reported here that the Washington carries a number of passengers besides a crew of twenty.

Captain George Bailey of the bar tug Tatosaw saw the Washington late today and tried to get close enough to render assistance. Rough water drove the Tatosaw away.

The Canby life saving crew made several attempts to get a line aboard the Washington, but without avail. When darkness set in they were forced to abandon the useless effort. Another attempt will be made at daybreak, provided the ebbs do not wash the Washington away before.

Marine men here say practically the only hope the vessel has is that she will work ashore during the night on North beach.

The Washington sailed from Portland Saturday night and left out here early today. She carried about 500,000 feet of lumber, a large part of which was broken away and floated ashore. Her permit allows the Washington to carry 85 passengers.

RODGERS MEETS WITH ACCIDENT

FALLS WHEN IN SIGHT OF LANDING PLACE

On Last Lap of Long Journey—Rendered Unconscious and Machine Broken

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 12.—In an attempted flight from Pasadena to officially and his friend, the four-day Aviator Cal P. Rodgers met with the worst mishap of his career falling with his machine 125 feet in a glassy field within sight of his destination.

Although no bones were broken, Rodgers was rendered unconscious. He was badly shaken up, his face was scratched and his hands were burned by his machine and he was unable to move. His machine was completely wrecked.

Rodgers left Tournament park at Pasadena at 1:34, expecting to fly the 3 miles to Long Beach in as many minutes. He became confused after taking the air and after making aimlessly for half an hour, came down at a point in the air a mile further from Long Beach than the point from which he started. He took the air again after getting his bearings and was following the tracks of the Pacific Electric rail way when the accident occurred.

This was in an isolated section and the first learned of the accident by those interested was when an automobile driver who had seen Rodgers fall and had dragged him out from under the wings of his wrecked machine, carried him into the office of a physician at Compton two miles away. Rodgers was still unconscious when Mrs. Rodgers and his mother Mrs. R. S. Switzer, who had been waiting his arrival at Long Beach, reached Compton. Later he partly regained his senses, but was still too dazed to talk of his accident. He was his wife and mother had chartered for the run up from Long Beach and taken to his hotel at Pasadena, where two physicians were called in.

After an examination tonight, his physicians announced that he would suffer no permanent injury.

While the cause of the accident will not be known until Rodgers recovers sufficiently to explain it, it is believed that a control wire snapped, overturning the rudder of his machine and heading it nose downward at an angle of more than 45 degrees. Rodgers complained of engine trouble when he alighted at Covina Junction, but, according to the aviator, who saw him fall, he was flying smoothly when the mishap occurred.

First Action in 1903.

The first action against the packers came in 1903, when Judge Peter S. Grosscup enjoined them from violating the Sherman act. Investigation of charges against the packers followed and on July 1, 1905, 16 packers and four companies were indicted. Judge Humphrey granted the defendant immunity in 1906. A new investigation resulted in March, 1910. Indictments against the National Packing company and its subsidiary concern, and a bill in equity was filed, asking disintegration of the National Packing company. These indictments were quashed by Judge Landis. A new grand jury, impaneled in July, 1911, brought in the indictments against the 16 packers. Since then there have been a number of skirmishes in courts, and up to date the government has won all of them. All technicalities have been swept aside, the defendants have pleaded not guilty and all that remains is the jury trial.

Most of the government's effort will be directed to show the purpose of the organization of the National Packing company. The government charges that through this organization the packers were able to control the meat industry. United States Senator W. S. Kenyon of Iowa will be associated as special counsel, with United States District Attorney James H. Wilkinson in the prosecution. Pierce Butler of St. Paul, Minn., former of Washington, James Sheehan and Edward Godman, chief assistant district attorney, will help in the prosecution.

HEAVY FLOW CONTINUES FROM DRAINAGE TUNNEL

Volume of Water Rushing Through 8 1/2 Feet Estimated at 15,000 Gal. per Minute

CRIPPLE CREEK, Nov. 12.—Despite the heavy flow, work was continued in the heading of the deep drainage tunnel today, and the picked crew of miners, with Superintendent Charles Fuller in charge, put in a round of shots in the breast. The men were clad in heavy rubber clothing and worked under difficulties seldom encountered.

The tunnel was visited this afternoon by A. E. Carlton, resident member of the executive committee of the tunnel company, and The Gazette's correspondent and photographers taken of the immense flow of water rushing from the mouth of the tunnel.

The flow has diminished slightly and is estimated at 15,000 gallons per minute. Work was also continued to day in the drift on the C. & N. vein from the Fuller crescent into E. two tunnels. The flow is reported to have lessened an additional 1,000 gallons a minute.

Superintendent Nicholas of the El Paso company has put miners to work in the 1,000-foot level of the C. & N. vein shaft, cleaning up the station. The sixth level is dry.

Of the $51,000 subscribed for additional tunnel work, but $5,000 has been expended to date. It was said tonight that the work will continue until the amount subscribed is exhausted. The water makes further work impossible. Measurements will be taken in proportion of the water in the eastern shaft and the benefit derived from the flow will then be made known.

TEXAS HOTEL MEN TO COME TO THE SPRINGS

SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE

GALVESTON, Texas, Nov. 12.—This has been the brightest and most enjoyable day that the members of the "See America First" special have enjoyed since the left Colorado a few days ago. The second entertaining in Galveston wound up tonight with a complimentary dinner at the Hotel Galveston, the second given to the visitors during their stay in the city.

As a result of the visit made by the hotel men from Galveston, the Texas Hotel association was formed this week. Members have pledged themselves to make a tour of the state next year, with Pecos Park as the final stop on a week's itinerary.

FIRST BEEF TRUST CASES BEGIN TODAY

Government Ready to Try Chicago Packers After Years Spent in Investigation

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—After more than nine years of investigation by the government, the first criminal prosecution of individual meat packers under the Sherman antitrust act will begin here tomorrow before Judge George A. Carpenter in the United States district court. Ten Chicago packers will be placed on trial charged with monopolizing and restraining interstate trade in fresh meats.

The penalty which may be inflicted if they be found guilty is a fine of $100,000 or a sentence of one year in the county jail or both. The defendants are:

Louis F. Swift, president of Swift & Co., and director of the National Packing company.

Edward W. Tilden, president of the National Packing company.

J. Ogden Armour, president of Armour & Co.

Arthur Meeker, general manager for Armour & Co.

Edward Morris, president of Morris & Co.

Francis A. Fowler, director of Swift & Co.

Thomas J. Connors, superintendent of Armour & Co.

Louis H. Hetman, manager for Morris & Co.

A special panel of 150 men has been summoned from which to select the jury. Hundreds of witnesses have been called. It is expected that the trial will last for several months.

First Action in 1903.

The first action against the packers came in 1903, when Judge Peter S. Grosscup enjoined them from violating the Sherman act. Investigation of charges against the packers followed and on July 1, 1905, 16 packers and four companies were indicted. Judge Humphrey granted the defendant immunity in 1906. A new investigation resulted in March, 1910. Indictments against the National Packing company and its subsidiary concern, and a bill in equity was filed, asking disintegration of the National Packing company. These indictments were quashed by Judge Landis. A new grand jury, impaneled in July, 1911, brought in the indictments against the 16 packers. Since then there have been a number of skirmishes in courts, and up to date the government has won all of them. All technicalities have been swept aside, the defendants have pleaded not guilty and all that remains is the jury trial.

Most of the government's effort will be directed to show the purpose of the organization of the National Packing company. The government charges that through this organization the packers were able to control the meat industry. United States Senator W. S. Kenyon of Iowa will be associated as special counsel, with United States District Attorney James H. Wilkinson in the prosecution. Pierce Butler of St. Paul, Minn., former of Washington, James Sheehan and Edward Godman, chief assistant district attorney, will help in the prosecution.

Grand Jury.

Report That Throne Willing to Retire to Jehai if Safety Is Assured

PEKING, Nov. 12.—Yuan Kai and the government exchanged letters this morning.

Yuan Kai has agreed to return to the throne if the situation in the north is settled by the 15th of December. The Viceroy of the north, Hu Shih, has agreed to return to the throne if the situation in the north is settled by the 15th of December. The Viceroy of the north, Hu Shih, has agreed to return to the throne if the situation in the north is settled by the 15th of December.

The report that the throne is willing to retire to Jehai if safety is assured.

It is expected that the throne will remain in the forbidden city. It is understood that the throne is willing to accept a position and retire to Jehai if safety is assured. Prince Ching, the acting premier, does not desire to remain in office but he continues to support the regent who has no other trusted adviser.

The situation at Kai Feng is serious. The governor's family left for the north last night on a special train. The governor remains at Kai Feng but does not sleep at the Yamen. Foreign refugees, who have arrived from Tai Yuen Fu, Shan Si province report that no foreigners have been harmed, but the governor and his wife and 10 Manchus have been beheaded.

The rebels are maintaining order, and the new arrivals say the administration is excellent. The whole province of Shan Si is supporting the movement.

Mukden and New Chwang are controlled by defense societies consisting of troops and civilians. The condition prevailing in these places practically amount to independence.

SHANGHAI, Nov. 12.—Reports from Nanking say that the city is now orderly and that all foreigners are safe. "Chin Kiang, a short distance from Nanking, is awaiting results at the other place, but the rebels are still on the forts. The revolutionists have taken Chu-Chow on the Fu Kow allroad, 80 miles north of Nanking. The consuls at Shanghai have received instructions to consult and deal with the de facto government without official recognition. The American marines who have been guarding the cable houses at Wu Sun have been withdrawn and the marines have taken charge. It is understood that Wu Ting Fang, minister of foreign affairs, has telegraphed the diplomatic corps in Peking, against the Nanking massacre pointing out that the reformers are organized and are maintaining order in the province.

What the Press Agents Say

"THE VIRGINIAN" TONIGHT

"The Virginian," Owen Wister and Kirk La Shelle's dramatization of Mr. Wister's romance of Wyoming life, with a thoroughly competent company assisted by a wealth of scenery, will be presented at the Opera House tonight. Good seats may still be secured. The prices are 50c, 75c, $1 and $1.50.

"The Virginian" is the best drama of western life ever written. It holds the attention of the audience closely, its leading characters winning sympathy, laughter or hatred, as the intent may be, and all being up to the pretense. The cowboys and the women of the west are all as they are pictured in the book—like people, rough but sterling. The atmosphere is the rolling range, the cattle grazing and stampeding, the blue sky undimmed by a single chimney, the rocky pass, the camp fire and the poker game on the grass-grown stump. Here is a relief from the restraint of crowded dwellings, from stiff conventions of street and office, from the depression of club and drawing room.

"The Virginian" leads us out of the prison of city life into the open country as God made it, and where man practices just enough civility to satisfy the rash instinct in us all. Mr. Wister has given his cowboy a delightful character. He is a man, a type of the frontier, and although all that he does may not be in accordance with the ideals of those living in civilization, still he has ideals far above those of the men with whom he is cast, and he lives up to them, a fine specimen of virile and honest manhood, a man brave morally and physically. He is not spotless, nor does he pretend to be. He has gambled and has lived the life of the west, but his heart is sound and his lapses have not been those of a man of depraved nature, but rather of a strong nature seeking diversion from the monotony of life. He falls in love with Molly Wood, a descendant of the Puritans of New England, who comes out to Wyoming to teach school, and though she resists the love she feels for a man so utterly apart from all her associations and traditions, she, in the end, succumbs to his determined wooing.

MONTGOMERY AND STONE

Perhaps no two names in the mimic world can conjure so much as those of Montgomery and Stone, who will make their first bow tomorrow night to a Colorado Springs audience. Their coming has been keenly anticipated and it goes without saying that not even a Southern could awaken the interest which prevails for their premiere at the Opera House tomorrow night. We have been, in the past, obliged to be content in witnessing colorless imitations of these originals in plays made famous by them, with No. 2 companies, but tomorrow night we can congratulate ourselves on seeing the real thing in person. The seat sale, of course, has been quite unusual and unless seats are secured now lucky will be those who can secure available standing room.

Much has been said of the play, also the music, and in each respect it is considered a worthy successor to their previous successes, "The Wizard of Oz" and "The Red Mill," musical plays that brought them fame and fortune.

CANO-DOWNS

Tomorrow night these grotesque comedians appear as a couple of youths who ran away from home and were stranded with a circus. Their vicissitudes in getting back again furnish the meat of a most amusing story. "The Old Town" since its production two years ago has practically taken all their season in but a few of the eastern cities, with notable runs at Mr. Dillingham's Studebaker theater, Chicago, and his handsome New York playhouse, the Globe.

Montgomery and Stone, with their company of 85, with all of their effects, will arrive by special train over the Denver & Rio Grande railroad tomorrow morning at 11:20 o'clock.

The prices are 50c, $1, $1.50, $2 and $2.50.

"THE RED ROSE"

What promises to be the sensation of the present theatrical season is John C. Fisher's production of the "Globe" theater, New York, success "The Red Rose," a musical comedy in three acts by Harry B. and Robert H. Smith, with music by Robert Hood Powers, which comes to the Opera House on Saturday night.

In the past three years probably no musical production has received the praise from both press and public as has "The Red Rose." It has been pronounced the prettiest, smartest, cleverest, most beautiful musical comedy produced since "Florodora," which was unquestionably the greatest musical success in the history of the theater in America.

The story correctly depicts the art student's high life in Paris. However, contrary to most productions with a Parisian atmosphere, "The Red Rose" is to be clean and wholesome and a show you can take your mother, a sister or son, with perfect safety. The locale of the story affords excellent opportunities for sumptuous stage settings, magnificent costumes, and electrical effects, for which Mr. Fisher is famous. The present company is unusually large and includes many notable people. Feature of the performance is "The Student's Glee," which caused a sensation in New York city.

WHAT DO YOU LIKE?

THE MAJESTIC HAS IT

It does not make much difference what your particular fancy is in the line of high-class amusements, the Majestic has it this week, and the person who cannot find plenty of enjoyment in the new bill which opened Saturday, has a taste that is exceedingly hard to please. That there are few such tastes among Majestic patrons was evidenced by the keen appreciation with which every act was received at Saturday's performance, and a large business throughout the week is assured at the popular local vaudeville house.

From the standpoint of fun, nothing has been seen here in ages to excel "The Lady Downstairs." The witty dialogue of which keeps the house in constant peals of laughter. A sympathetic widow thinks a gambler who has lost on a horse has lost his wife. The conversation resulting from the misunderstanding is exceedingly funny. It is the more effective because of the flawless acting of Mr. and Mrs. William Morris, whose names are synonymous for class.

From the standpoint of physical beauty and grace, the Misses Dolliver and Rogers can give cents and spades to most of their rivals, and their costume singing and dancing is at hit.

From the musical standpoint, nothing more artistic could be imagined than the xylophone playing of the Musical Dancers, and the beautiful harmonies they evoke from this instrument with their instant favor.

From the standpoint of animal training, a more interesting object lesson than the intelligent stunts of the two baby elephants of the Sells-Floto circus, Kansas and Missouri, in charge of Mr. Lucia Zora, would be hard to find. For the children this is a rare treat, but grown folks are no less appreciative of the intelligence of the young monsters of the Jungle.

From the standpoint of dramatic unity, a better photoplay than "A Breach of Faith," the latest Rex production, exclusive with the Majestic, is yet to be produced. It holds interest throughout with its very human story.

A comic photoplay and the concert orchestra program, whose quality needs no comment, complete a strong and well-balanced bill, that has not a dull moment in it. Performances at 2:45, 7:30 and 9:10. Admission, only 10, 20 and 30 cents.

night's storm reached here tonight. A boy is reported killed at Cabrey, but the wires are all down and the name could not be ascertained. At East Twin Grove a church was picked up from its foundation, carried several feet and demolished.

DENVER, Nov. 12.—For the opening day of the American Apple Congress in Denver tomorrow more than 2000 visitors from about 20 states represented in the exhibits at the auditorium are already here and the several special trains which will arrive from all parts of Colorado tomorrow morning will bring more than 1000 more. The number of visitors, two extra trains from the western slope country will arrive tomorrow afternoon.

SEVEN REPORTED LOST ON LAKE MICHIGAN

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Seven men tonight are reported missing as a result of last night's storm on Lake Michigan. They left Chicago Saturday morning for a fishing trip in the gasoline launch, and are believed to have been lost. The launch last night was reported as having passed the lifesaving station at Evanston, Ill., at the time and afternoon will more than double the number of visitors. Two extra trains from the western slope country will arrive tomorrow afternoon.

TRAIN DERAILED TO PREVENT COLLISION

OSAGE CITY, Kan., Nov. 12.—Two engines and the mail and baggage cars of Santa Fe passenger train No. 17, were sent into the ditch this morning when the foreman of the Santa Fe Missouri Pacific crossing threw the derail switch to prevent the train from colliding with a long Missouri Pacific freight train which was at the crossing at the same time. The leading engine of the Santa Fe train was badly damaged, but no one was injured.

ONE KILLED IN OMAHA

OMAHA, Nov. 12.—One death is credited to last night's storm in this city. The body of P. C. Campbell, aged 63, for many years a watchman in the department store, was found within three blocks of his home at a time when the storm was at its height. While heart disease is given as the immediate cause of death, Campbell's battle with the storm is believed to have had much to do with his demise.

Terrible Picture of Suffering

Clinton, Ky.—Mrs. M. C. McElroy, in a letter from Clinton, writes: "For six years, I was a sufferer from female troubles. I could not eat, and could not stand on my feet, without suffering great pain. Three of the best doctors in the state said I was in a critical condition, and going down hill. I lost hope. After using Cardui a week, I began to improve. Now I feel better than in six years." Fifty years of success in actual practice is positive proof that Cardui can always be relied on for relieving female weakness and disease. Why not test it for yourself? Sold by all druggists.

CHILD WIFE A SUICIDE

EVERETT, Wash., Nov. 12.—Mrs. Letha Lamara, the 16-year-old wife of Louis Lamara, a Greek, committed suicide in the county jail here today by choking herself with a piece of rope. Lamara and his wife were arrested November 2 and were being held pending an investigation of the case.

ered in the favored nation clauses to our treaties.

"All of the favored nations are entitled to the gratuitous exchange granted to the Canadian product when they conform to the specific conditions of that enactment of July 16, 1911, and give to the United States as much or as little equivalent as Canada does. They want identical terms.

"What excuse can be offered for withholding from other nations a voluntary special privilege which was granted to Canada as an inducement to some of its provinces to treat the United States as well as do the favored nations? The precedent applying to free Canadian pulp and paper is respected by all the favored nations. They can fairly ask why Canada should be put upon a footing more favored than any other nation. Some of them buy more from us than Canada does. Some of them sell more to us than Canada does. Why, then, the delay in treating them according to law?"

It is probable this matter will be considered when the president, secretary of state and secretary of the treasury reach Washington.

TO KEEP G'rls 13 & New

Oilcloth should not be swept with a straw broom or scrubbed with a stiff brush. Instead, sweep with a soft hair brush and wipe off with lukewarm water in which has been dissolved a teaspoonful of Gold Dust washing powder. Wash with clear, warm water. Where oilcloth is losing its shiny surface, wash as above, then dissolve a little ordinary glue in a pint of hot water. At night pour over the whole carefully with a flannel dipped in the water. Choose a dry day and by morning the glue will be hard, it will give a fine gloss and make the oilcloth wear much longer.

Colorado College Men Write on Two Interesting Subjects

The last number of the Colorado College publication contains two articles of local interest. One by George B. Thomas of the faculty of the School of Engineering of Colorado college and the second by William A. Lott of a graduate of Colorado college last year. The article by Mr. Thomas is entitled, "A Study of the Advantages of Electrification of the Arkansas Junction Branch Division of the Colorado Midland Railway."

This article is an abstract of the theses presented by Messrs. Bartlett Hayward Hill and Schneider, for their degrees in engineering at Colorado college in June, 1911. It is a timely article, dealing as it does with the great problem now confronting the railroads of the country.

The New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad for some time has been operating by electricity the part of its system which has the heaviest traffic. Just in the last year it has completed also the electrification of the Housatonic tunnel in the Berkshire range in Massachusetts. This tunnel is the longest in the United States. The single phase system is used in both cases.

The Great Northern railway crosses the Cascade mountains through a tunnel 13,872 feet long, with a ruling gradient of 1.1 per cent. This latter tunnel has been electrified using the three-phase system. In the past this tunnel was the limiting factor in the freight capacity of the road. Trains were drawn at the tunnel's portals and rebuilt, using a special high carbon coal-to-ignite of these precautions smoke and gas would sometimes become so dense under certain weather conditions as to make it impossible to pass through. Now with electric locomotives there is no delay of freight and it is estimated that the saving per day in locomotive is pulled through the tunnel with its train, but it is planned to electrify the whole division. A hydro-electric station supplies the power.

One of the steam interurban railroads of New York city installed electric locomotives in place of those driven by steam. It has been found possible to handle more train in the same tracks and at the same time a 50 per cent saving in the coal bill was effected.

The above cases illustrate two types of electrification, while electrification is especially applicable. That water traffic is very dense second when there are tunnels to be passed through.

REV. G. C. CRESS TALKS AT Y. M. C. A.; WEEK OF PRAYER BEGINS TODAY

The Rev. G. Clifford Cress of Colorado City addressed the lobby meeting at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon, on "The Relationship of the Church to the Laboring Man." Mr. Cress has made a thorough study of this subject, both in New York city and Chicago, and, having had an opportunity to study them while doing missionary work in foreign countries, he is well posted.

In brief, he showed the responsibility of the church to the laboring man, pointed out that they should work together. He told of the social problems of the laborer, and said the church should carry the gospel to them, in that way helping them through the difficulties found in shop and factory life.

The speaker showed the necessity of corporations using every possible means to protect their men. He dwelt for a short time on child labor, showing the ill effects of this practice.

The services in Crystal theater at noon today will be conducted by the Rev. G. H. Stunts of Colorado City. All men are invited, and a free lunch of sandwiches and coffee will be served.

DRY CLEANING

The Elite Laundry has added a department for that class of work.

WARMLY PRAISES SCENERY

That the Pikes Peak region is one of the grandest scenic attractions in the world is the opinion voiced by Arthur Newstadt, Frankfurt, Germany, at the Anders hotel, last night. Mr. Newstadt is here on a tour of the world.

"I have seen most of the world's magnificent scenery," said he, "particularly that in Europe and Asia, but nowhere have I seen things which can compare with the sights of this region. In spite of the bitterly cold weather, I have managed to take most of the scenic trips in this district, and I have enjoyed them all thoroughly. Unfortunately, I did not get a good view from Pikes Peak, as the day was very cloudy when I made the ascent, but, otherwise, I have a most excellent idea of the country."

"I had always heard a great deal of the Colorado Rockies, and the accounts have not been overdrawn in any instance. I am only sorry that I did not get here during the summer months, and I will try to get back during the tourist season within a few years."

NEGRO HELD IN JAIL

Henry Jackson, negro, is held at the police station, while local officers are investigating his connection with Ethel Jones, 14 years old, also colored, who was with him at the time of his arrest at the D. & R. G. station, last evening at 8:30 o'clock.

According to reports received here, Jackson is a married man, living at Denver. The girl is said to be an orphan, who was given refuge in the Jackson home. Jackson claims that his wife was cruel to the girl, and, for this reason, he was taking her away. They came here from Denver two days ago. When arrested they were hoarding a train for Pueblo and later intended to go to Kansas City and Chicago. It is said.

Jackson had a .44-caliber Winchester rifle and 50 rounds of cartridges. The local police intend to prosecute Jackson if the Denver authorities refuse to handle the case.

Personal Mention

Mrs. J. Frank, of San Francisco, was at the Alva Hotel last evening.

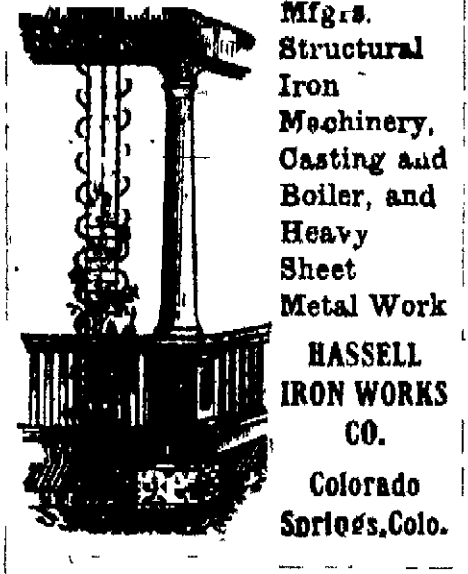

Dr. M. E. Eckhoff, of Denver, was in the city yesterday at the Alva Hotel.

A CHOICE BARGAIN
We are offering to sell one of the best bargains that we have ever met. If you want a home and also a property that will yield ready cash in case of emergency, this is the place for you. It is well located, beautiful north end residence, and this is in our estimation such a good bargain that we have no doubt that it will be sold very soon. The property is on North Nevada, about 100 feet enough to be convenient to use. You should wish to walk to town, a large lot of 50x150 with a lawn and beautiful trees. The house consists of eight large rooms, six decorated and finished, bath and sleeping porch, good cemented basement, and a large barn. A very fine hot water heating plant completes this fine home. This place is in good order and you can move into this house without any out-of-pocket expense. Call on us at 410 E. Yampa St. or phone 410. We are interested in all of our property and will be pleased to show you the property.
